

SUTPHEN CORPORATION SALES TECHNICAL BULLETIN

ALUMINUM BODIES: NOTCH IN COMPARTMENTS L1/R1

OVERVIEW

Effective immediately, all aluminum body pumpers built at the Dublin Facility will have a notch in the L1 & R1 compartment. This notch is to accommodate the optional air-ride suspension. By standardizing on this notch, it cleans up the parts database and reduces engineering body templates.

Please contact your designated Sales Applications Engineer (SAE) if you have any questions, concerns or suggestions.